

JIMMY WEBB

“Webb {has a} gift for strong, varied rhythms, inventive structures, and rich, sometimes surprising harmonies.”

— Time Magazine

“When I was starting out as a songwriter, I looked to Jimmy Webb as one of the most innovative and musically proficient songwriters of our generation.”

— Billy Joel

“He’s a prodigious performer, and a night with Jimmy at the keys is not unlike getting to hear George Gershwin or Cole Porter live. It’s hard to believe one guy could have written all these amazing songs. Webb is still at it, thankfully, and if you get a chance to see him live, grab it. People ask why nobody writes songs like they used to. Fortunately for us all, Jimmy Webb still does.”

(replacing Hal David's ten year reign in the same position)

Though best known for the instant classics he provided for such artists as Glen Campbell ("By The Time I Get to Phoenix," "Wichita Lineman," "Galveston"), Richard Harris ("MacArthur Park," "Didn't We"), The Fifth Dimension, ("Up, Up and Away"), The Brooklyn Bridge ("Worst That Could Happen"), Art Garfunkel ("All I Know"), Joe Cocker ("The Moon's A Harsh Mistress") and many more, Jimmy Webb continues to write new songs that are as carefully crafted and magical as his legendary hits.

In addition to writing songs for other artists, Webb has been releasing albums of his own for many years, including the acclaimed 2010 release, "Just Across the River," which features such artists as Billy Joel, Vince Gill, Linda Ronstadt, Jackson Browne, Willie Nelson and Glen Campbell joining Webb on a selection of his songs. In 1999, Webb wrote Tunesmith, which was acclaimed as the "finest book about songwriting of our time," by Musician magazine.

Webb remains the only artist to ever receive GRAMMY® awards for music, lyrics, and orchestration.

Webb's songs grace a galaxy of major recording artists' albums, including: Glen Campbell, Michael Feinstein, Carly Simon, Linda Ronstadt, Amy Grant, Art Garfunkel, Tony Bennett, Rosemary Clooney, Reba McEntire, Shawn Colvin, Willie Nelson, Johnny Cash, Joe Cocker, James Taylor, R.E.M., Kris Kristofferson, and Billy Joel, to name a few.
